

Qmerit

Who We Are

Qmerit's turnkey home charging installation solutions streamline the switch to EVs – whether your company has 10 vehicles or thousands, managed internally or by a third-party provider.

As the largest national provider of home charging installation services, Qmerit makes the switch to EVs easy and seamless for fleet managers and their employees. We simplify the entire process for your home-based fleet, providing a safe, smooth and predictable experience for you and your employees from start to finish.

Qmerit Makes it Easy To Charge@Home

We've built the leading nationwide team of installation service specialists. They're carefully vetted, certified and trained in the latest EVSE and electrification technologies. Our installation experts work with our customer success specialists to provide you and your employees with concierge service throughout the installation process.

We walk your employees through every step, from initial education about EVSE to installation – through the end of the warranty period.

With the Qmerit Home Charging Assessment, your employees can submit home details and photos to receive a fast, accurate estimate and schedule their installation with a Qmerit Certified Installer.

Qmerit continuously collects feedback from your employees about their experience and the service quality we're delivering. Fleet owners and managers can track project progress and quality ratings.

How We Work With You

Qmerit simplifies the switch to EVs for home-based fleets while helping you manage your budget and ensuring driver satisfaction.

Streamlined Solutions

Our technology platform and turnkey processes (with over a decade of national EV infrastructure roll outs) ensure we continue to meet the highest standards – protecting your company and brand.

Concierge Service

Qmerit manages every detail for your drivers – from basic education on home charging through price estimates, approvals, installation scheduling, billing and follow-up.
